Dear Terence,

Thanks for taking part in the survey we sent you a few weeks ago and helping to shape our Brexit work. Almost 2,000 people gave us their views.

Here's what you told us:

First of all, 76% of you think we should campaign on environmental issues related to Brexit.

Should we prioritise campaigning on Brexit issues?

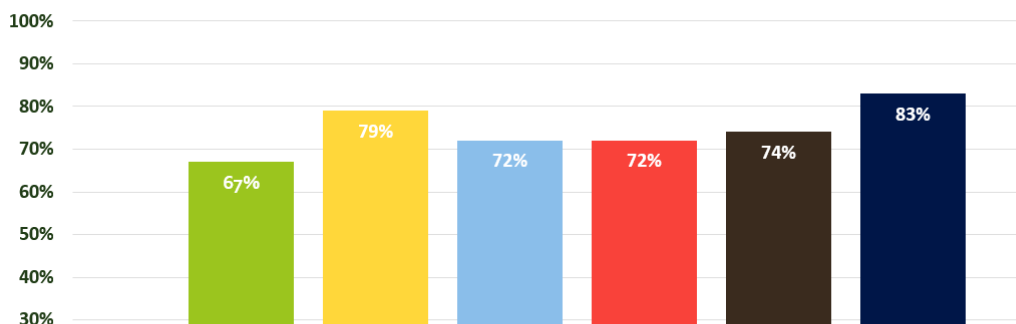

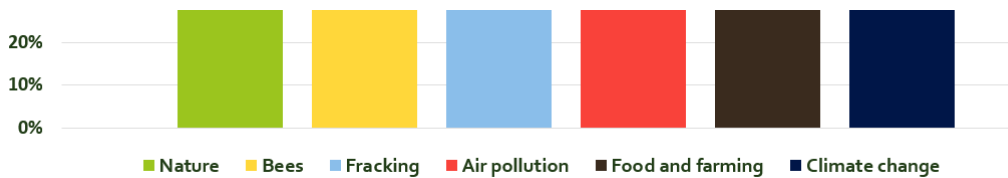

We've responded by teaming with Green Alliance, WWF, Greenpeace and others to measure MPs pledge to support strong environmental protections, whatever happens next. Keep the pressure up you can now share the pledge with your friends and family using the buttons at the bottom of this email.

We also asked you which environmental issues are the most important when it comes to Brexit.

83% of you said we should focus on climate change, and 79% thought fracking should be a focus. In fact, there was support for focusing on a whole range of issues post-Brexit.

Which issues should we focus on?

We'll use these views to think about where we can make the most impact with our Brexit campaigning over the coming months.

Whatever happens, I hope you'll spread the word to make sure our environmental protection better, not worse - use the share buttons below to tell your friends and family.

We will keep you informed of future plans and ways to get involved and keep shaping this world.

Many thanks for your help,

Connor Schwartz
